

It is my understanding that the airwaves belong to the public, and are used by others as a service or courtesy. They exist to serve the public. The public is not served by fewer and larger corporations gaining more and more control of the airwaves.

I urge you to retain the current regulations and not allow further consolidation of ownership by large companies.

In my estimation, much of what constitutes a free press is at stake.

Thank you.